The prolific interior designer Jacques Garcia signs his first hotel in Asia with the only establishment in Singapore to offer an artist-in-residence programme. Its style represents a contemporary take on the Parisian salon. All in red velvet and benefiting from excellent acoustics, the artistic and glamorous setting invites guests to make the acquaintance of the resident artists whilst sipping a tailor-made cocktail, listening to a live jazz band, or enjoying dinner and watching a show. Has the Montparnasse spirit come back to life?
